Product Description

It is a timeless chair because it comes in a material made of natural hide obtained by respecting all the properties that comprise its identity and because the project underlying this chair has the strength to challenge time: the hide will inevitably move, its texture will change and its color will alter but the chair will express this transition, preserving its functionality and performance over time. The beauty of this chair is because of its natural characteristics. Please inquire for care maintenance instructions. The collection includes: lounge chair with arms and dining chair.

Handmade in Italy.
