Product Description

The Matégot glass coffee table by Mathieu Matégot was designed in 1960 and with its organic and artistic form is a chic lounge table suitable for any contemporary home. The brass base is playing with the contrasting lightness of the glass, giving the table an elegant and luxurious touch. The brass tube has the impression of spinning around, lifting the table top with easiness and evoking a moment of weightlessness.

Matégot glass coffee table was designed in harmony with the changing design style of its period. Assembly required.
