Product Description

An unusual classic. Elegant and comfortable. The new color variants of this chair evoke the ambiance of the café society. A new edition of the model originally designed by Adolf Loos, with an austere steam bentwood beech design that slims the backrest and redesigns space. The ring-shaped seat stabilizes the feet bent from a single piece of wood. Back legs and backrest have also been formed from a single piece of bentwood. Available with a wide range of different seats, including an upholstered seat and back.

Vienna 144 Chair with Arms and Vienna 144 Chair with Woven Seat also available.
Introduced in 1908
